25. 7 Things Organized People Do – Thomas Frank

1. Always put things back where you found them, the moment you are done with them.
 2. Do not rely solely on your brain to store information. To remember things, put information into systems you trust.
 3. Label all things – especially things you won't use in a long time. It makes things easy to find and easy to know what they're used for.
 4. Build a mindfulness loop by drawing out your most important focuses in life.
Constantly look ahead and figure out what your dependencies need in future.
 5. "Two is one, one is none." Have a backup for anything that will cause an interruption in your life if it runs out.
 6. Organize by experience, not dogma. Question the established ways of doing things and constantly experiment with processes to ensure you are doing things as effectively as you can.
 7. Respect the value of "mise en place." Your setup, work environment, and state of mind must be organized before you work. Avoid chaos.
 8. Be deliberate about what you own. Keep things around that are useful (brings joy or utility). Ask regularly: "Do I need to keep this?"

27. 6 Habits That Made Me a Millionaire – Richard Yu

1. Deep work: Have 3 hours of undistracted work every day.
 - No social media, no email, no phone.
 - Staying focused and removing distractions is key if you want to accomplish more.
2. Wake up and go to bed at the same time every day.
 - It increases your energy levels and builds discipline.
3. Delayed gratification: Too much partying, TV shows, video games, and unhealthy food will ruin your motivation.
 - Work hard now and make short-term sacrifices for your long-term goal and the future life you want.
4. Work out a minimum of 3 times a week to train your body, but more importantly, train your mind.
 - Exercising regularly builds discipline, resilience, and increases your energy. The key is to be consistent with it.
5. How you do one thing is how you do everything.
 - If you don't give 100% to your workouts, you're not going to give 100% to your business. Treat everything with excellence and see how your life changes.
6. Practice gratitude: Take time to give thanks every day.

30. Working Hard vs. Working Smart – Alux

Principle	Working Smart Approach
Know the end goal	Have a clear picture of where you're going and the steps to get there.
Manage your time well	Use time wisely, create realistic schedules, and avoid multitasking.
Find shortcuts	Look for efficient ways to achieve goals with less effort.
Know when to ask for help	Build a network of people and specialists who solve problems better.
Have interruption-free slots	Dedicate focused time for important tasks.
Avoid procrastination	Cut distractions, break tasks into smaller parts, and build willpower.

 Working smart means being efficient, not sneaky.

To succeed, work both smart and hard.

31. ATTACK LIFE : Andrew Tate & Jim Rohn

Stop feeling sorry for yourself, ATTACK LIFE : Tate & Jim Rohn

Happiness, success, and fulfillment must be earned through discipline, action, and effort—not by waiting, making excuses, or blaming external factors.
